1935?: "Gofa Peak still towered hundreds of feet above us but we had to climb no more. We dropped down the little green slope to the Andersons' thatch-roofed house. They had been alone for three months and they welcomed us joyfully. -- The station was like a saucer with one broken side. Three buildings - two homes and a clinic - were set in the sides of the saucer, halfway up. Clumps of high, flowering thorn trees were scattered around and up the far side. The broken side represented a ravine -- Strung along the edge of the saucer above our homes were the huts of our neighbors, half hidden by the broad leaves of the bananalike stalks surrounding them. -- Enid looked around and up but she kept walking toward the door, a sheet of corrugated iron nailed to a wooden frame."
"Now Enid and I were moving into a house built by Walter Ohman and Laurie Davidson. They had started the spiritual house, too, and we would build on their foundation. It would not even be necessary for us to struggle with an unwritten language, for Walter Ohman had done most of that work.

Our excursion through the four-room house did not take long. -- The thatched roof had been extended to form a six-foot veranda all around the house. -- This was to be our first home. -- Our goods had arrived from Soddu."

"We turned to the neighborhood children and told them we were ready to begin reading classes. They had attended these under our former missionaries, Walter Ohman and Laurie Davidson, and were clamoring for further instruction. The Andersons joined us and we divided the children into classes according to ability and progress already made." "Soon the ones who had studied under the previous missionaries began to read Gofa literature, which consisted of two small pieces - the Gospel of Mark, published by the British and Foreign Bible Society, and a compilation of Scripture verses called God Hath Spoken, published by the Scripture Gift Mission."

"Much time was spent in language study. The Gofa language was changing. Its pure form was now spoken only by backwoods people. One of the believers, Saka, had married a girl from a village beyond the mountain and her Gofa speech was unspoiled by contact with Amharas or foreigners. She was a jolly person and spoke in parables and idioms we had never before heard."

"Then suddenly Mussolini swept his hand across the land. -- Dr. Lambie wrote that the American Ambassador had ordered all American citizens to leave the country. This did not mean we missionaries had to leave but it did mean that we could not expect American protection."

The missionaries finally heard from Dejazmach Abebe in Bulki. He said that he was leaving and was going to war.

"The spiritual work on Gofa Station was still in a primitive state when /the Forsbergs/ arrived, but a foundation had been laid, for the Ohmans and the Davidsons and others had preached and taught. Simberu and, shortly afterward, Saka, a serf, had believed though they had not yet been baptized. -- One day Enid and I packed our trek goods and made the trip to Ara country. It was a big day for Dafarsha and his brother, Dabalki, when they welcomed us to their people. -- The men wore loincloths for the occasion, they did not always have that much on when we met them in their fields. -- Even for Africa they were a backward people."

The Forsbergs found out about Ara customs that they had a platform on four poles on which they kept the body of a dead persons, sometimes for a year before burial. Only men were permitted to sit on stools, not even the foreign missionary Enid as a woman was allowed to do it - she was given an ensete leaf to sit on.

"Walter /Ohman, nick-named Lefty for being left-handed/ was the District Superintendent for Walamo, Gamo, and Gofa. He and Marcella /born Sholl/ had been on furlough and had but recently returned. They agreed to make the long trip from Soddu and Ray Davis came with them. We found there were now three candidates for baptism /Simberu, Saka and his brother Sonkura/. -- The baptism of these three men would be our first step toward establishing a native church." Although the Andersons and Forsbergs were Presbyterians, they thought of immersion as the proper form of baptism. They built a little dam to get enough depth of water.

"Some of the bystanders screamed, for they had seen only sprinkling by Coptic priests. --That night we had our first communion service with the three new members of the Gofa church. But the gates of hell would almost prevail against it before we were to see any substantial growth in it."

A few days later the Governor came riding to tell that we was going off to war and that he had left one of his men in charge. "Thirteen years were to pass before we would see him again, and under vastly different circumstances. The war would affect us all." [M Forsberg, Land beyond the Nile, New York 1958 p 64-70, 74, 77-79]

"With the Governor gone, public security rapidly deteriorated. Old feuds were revived and there were frequent shootings. Merle Anderson was kept busy treating knife and gun wounds. Then an epidemic of unknown origin suddenly swept the community. -- The disease had no outstanding symptoms apart from high fever -- /the newly baptized Simberu died from it; he could not be buried in the Orthodox cemetery/ -- This was one of the biggest funerals we had witnessed in the whole area. The Amhara aristocracy was there, as was the pagan Gofa aristocracy from many surrounding villages. Slaves and peasants had come too, to honor a slave at death!"

Enid Forsberg got appendicitis but survived the long trip to Soddo where Dr. Roberts removed her appendix. Afterwards it was not certain what they ought to do - the Emperor had already fled from Ethiopia - but the Forsbergs nevertheless rejoined the Andersons at Gofa.

"Our friend Geeza was worried about us. He was the Emperor's special representative in Gofa Province -- We heard enough shots fired during every twenty-four hours to cut the population in half. -- There was also the growing possibility that we might have to leave Gofa hurriedly, without warning, so we packed the few essential supplies for the road. -- One morning Merle Anderson came over with the distressing report that Lilian had pains in the region of her appendix. The Andersons loaded their pack animals, mounted their mules, and soon disappeared over the notch in the hill. They reached Soddu safely, never to see Gofa again."

"Our church was slowly growing. The people in Kencho and Baga, behind the mountain to the west, were coming for visits regularly and holding prayers in their villages. -- We had no mail from home for six months -- Enid and I were the only missionaries left in the uncertain areas of the land."

"One morning the Ethiopian wife of one of the two Greek merchants in Gofa appeared at our gate to warn us that her husband and the other Greek were leaving immediately for Soddu because it was rumoured the town was to be looted that night. The Ethiopian wives were to be left behind. -- This seemed to us the final signal. -- As we said our last farewells to the Christians - Shashotie, Saka, and Sonkura - we somehow sensed we would not be returning from this trip."

After riding on a long and difficult journey they arrived to the other Amricans in Soddo and even got mail from America carried there by Italian airplanes. [Forsberg as above p 81-85, 87-91]

"The two valleys of the Gomit and Tammi Rivers are close together and allow of an interesting comparison, as they are of entirely different types. The Gomit can be seen to take its rise at springs near Waibela, and its valley deepens gradually until by the time it ends at the Abbai, a few miles farther on, the river is running through a ravine with steep cliffs on either side. The Tammi was already in a narrow ravine -- It -- flows at ground-level across the high plateau, and pitches over the edge into the deep fissure." [Cheesman 1936]

Zara Yakob gained in prestige from defeating the Adal ruler Badlay-ad-Din at the battle of Gomit in Dewaro in 1445.

HC... Gomma (historical small kingdom), cf Agaro 07/36 [x] Gomma, south of the Didessa river, surrounded by the other Gibe states Limmu, Jimma, Gera, Gumma, and with present day Agaro at its centre, was formed as a state around 1820. The written information on the early history of Gomma is too sketchy for detailed description. While the Jimma Interview Programme which was conducted in the region in 1974 has produced much information also about the history of Gomma, much remains to be done before knowledge is established on a solid foundation.

1820s "A linking thread that runs through /the written/ information is that the founder of the dynasty of Gomma was a Muslim 'holy' man and the dynasty he founded was known as Awuliani ('the holy one'). On the one hand, Cecchi asserts that a Somali shaykh, Nur Hussein, was the founder of the dynasty of Gomma but this is untenable. -- On the other hand, the Amharic History of the Matcha Kings claims that Awuliani -- came from Gojjam. -- This, however, is historically incorrect -- Gomma was the first state in the Gibe region where Islam became the religion of the whole people. -- It was in order to Islamize and exalt the noble origin of the dynasty that did so much to spread Islam in Gomma that the tradition of Awuliani was invented. --

According to /oral/ tradition, the nucleus of the state of Gomma was formed by Abba Boke. He ruled over Gomma, except the region of Qattu. -- Careful analysis of this tradition provides us with a clear picture of the way in which the chafe assembly lost its traditional power. -- to lead warriors into battle was the task of the leaders elected by the assembly. Abba Boke was such a leader. His power was founded upon the mandate conferred by the assembly. However, he made himself hereditary leader, thus challenging anf ignoring the traditional political wisdom of rotating office. -- It was out of the struggle over possession and control of lands that Abba Boke gained total control of the land between Yacci and Dogaye. --

What becomes clear from the oral history of Gomma was that the weak feared attack by and sought protection of the strong, while terrorizing the weak into submission became the passion of the strong. -- Abba Boke effectively controlled the means of protection and offered it in exchange for the appropriation of economic surplus. Nevertheless, Abba Boke died before uniting the region of Qattu with Gomma. He was succeeded by his son, Abba Manno (c. 1820-1840), who seems to have gained considerable experience in the army of his father. Abba Manno came to power at a mature age and quickly united the region of Qattu with Gomma, thus completing the process of state formation." [Mohammed 1994 p 109-110]

"Abba Manno is remembered as the first king of Gomma, who introduced Islam to that land. -- He found in Islam an ideological justification for abolishing Oromo traditional celebrations such as butta festivals. -- by the 1830s the entire people /of Gomma/ were already converted to Islam. -- it was in the course of the spread of Islam in Gomma that --/Abba Manno's/ dynasty gained the immortal name of Awuliani --" [Mohammed 1994 p 110]

"A Somali shaykh was in charge of /the mosque at Shaykh Hussein/, which became the centre of diffusion of the Qadiriya order to the Gibe region. In fact, the Somali shaykh himself is reported to have brought the Qadiriya order to the Gibe region, to Gomma itself. The establishment of the Qadiriya and other orders in the Gibe region in the nineteenth century was the key to the spread of Islam among the people. These orders established themselves in the countryside, where they opened Quranic schools. It was in Gomma that the Qadiriya order was first established and where many fuqaha (legal scholars) and shaykhs zealously spread Islam. This explains the connection between the tradition of Awuliani and Shaykh Hussein of Bali, whom the Oromo call Nur Hussein --In terms of the spread of Islam in Gomma, a revolution took place during the reign of Abba Manno (1820-1840). The Qadiriya order, which arrived in Gomma in the last quarter of the eighteenth century, reached its full development during his reign. Another order, Tijaniya, also established itself in Gomma at this time. Abba Manno provided the orders with land -- By 1841, according to what Harris had heard in Shawa, 'in Gomma the Moslem faith is universal.' -- the rapid spread of Islam was accompanied by mushrooming Muslim education, which marked the definite transition to an Islamized society." [Mohammed 1994 p 156]

Antoine d'Abbadie recorded the following in 1843: "The hari or sweeping, is [enslavement] confiscation formerly practiced in Limmu, Jimma, Gumma, Gomma and Gera. [It] was abolished after the Gallas adopted or pretended to adopt Islam. While it existed people [were enslaved and] confiscated for the slightest fine." In 1846 d'Abbadie saw people from several states gather for the pilgrimage to Abba Muda. Only Gomma did not send any pilgrims, for alone of all the states at that time, it had been thoroughly Islamized.

The sheep of Gomma were regarded as particularly excellent. There was a merchants' village in Agaro in Gomma.

In Gomma during the reign of Abba Manno (1820-1840) the king was able continually to enlarge and regenerate the ranks of Muslim preachers and teachers by welcoming Islamic scholars from different parts of northeast Africa.

By the 1840s, Islam was the religion of the kings and the nobility in all the Gibe states except Gomma. In the first half of the nineteenth century, all the Gibe kings (except those of Gomma) were indifferent in matters of religion. European travellers and missionaries admired their tolerance. In the 1860s that tolerant generation was replaced by intolerant zealot leaders, mainly as a response to the threat from the Christians in the north. [Mohammed 1994 p 151]

"Abba Bagibo /in Jimma/ -- formed a solid alliance -- and turned the elite of Abba Rebu's own court /of Jimma after 1855/ against him as well. At the head of an army, the unsuspecting Abba Rebu advanced rapidly towards Gomma, expecting victory in a day. He was surprised to discover that he was surrounded and set upon by an enemy whose force was continually being renewed and increased. Instead of facing only the men of Gomma, he was met by the combined forces of the four /Gibe/ states. To fight was suicidal and only flight held some hope of survival. He chose to fight, and fought bravely, killing many of his enemies. He was able to withstand the formidable enemy for a day, but fell at the hand of an internal enemy who had decided to buy peace with his life. He was mortally wounded by one of his men and died /at the age of 25/ the following day in ## 1859." [Mohammed 1994 p 185]

"By the late 1870s, 'both the old and the young always memorize the Quran, which is 1870s taught by migrant Muslims. -- Though the kings of Gomma continued selling their non-Muslim slaves, they decisively ended hari, the practice of selling their subjects on various pretexts. This may reflect the strong impact Islam had on the rulers of Gomma." "According to Cecchi, the wide undulating valley which formed the main part of Gomma produced abundant teff, maize, sorghum, finger millet, cotton, oil seeds, peppers, varieties of beans and peas, coffee, lemons, and vegetables, but it lacked barley and wheat. Grain and coffee were the chief sources of agricultural wealth. No feast and no religious ceremony was complete without coffee. As the most thoroughly Islamized state in the region, Gomma was already substituting coffee for blood in ceremonies." [Mohammed 1994 p 116]

During an epidemic in 1878 two-thirds of the population of Gomma are said to have been swept off.

The land of Gomma had no coffee around the middle of the nineteenth century, but a few decades later it had become the greatest coffee-producing area in the entire Gibe region, if not in the whole of southwestern Ethiopia.

1880s Ras Gobana died suddenly in 1889. "Shortly after his removal from the administration of the Gibe region, the latter was aflame with rebellion. The Oromo leaders of the Gibe region paid dearly for their rebellion. Of the five states, only the kingdom of Jimma survived. The thrones of Limmu-Ennarya, Gomma, Gumma, and Gera lay in dust. The remaining members of the ruling houses spent their last days in the dungeons of Abba Jifar II of Jimma. The common people did not fare any better. Oromo peasants were reduced to landless, rightless, second-class subjects, who suffered much under the deadly weight of Menelik's empire." [Mohammed 1994 p 200]
